The state of New Hampshire was redeemed on Tuesday by the Republicans, who elected their candidate for governor, Roland H. Spaulding of Rochester, by over 12,000 plurality. This is the greatest plurality cast for any governor elected since the late John McLane, who carried the state by 15,734, in the Roosevelt landslide in 1904.

Senator Jacob H. Gallinger of Concord, re-elected for a fifth consecutive term in the first election of senators by the people. Former Congressman Cyrus A. Sulloway, returned to congress by over 1,500 plurality. This gives the "Tall Pine" two out of three in his struggles for the seat with Congressman Eugene E. Reed. This is Sulloway's 10th election, and at the completion of his term he will have served the district twenty years.

Representative Edward H. Wason of Nashua, elected to congress by nearly 3,000 plurality to succeed Congressman Raymond B. Stevens of Landaff, a Democrat.

In Rockingham county the entire Republican ticket defeated the fusion ticket of Democrats and Progressives by one of the largest majorities for years.

Complete returns from the entire state for governor and United States senator are as follows: For governor—Roland H. Spaulding, r, 46,200; Albert H. Noone, d, 33,814; Spaulding's plurality, 12,386. For United States senator—Jacob H. Gallinger, r, 41,577; Raymond B. Stevens, d, 34,044; Gallinger's plurality, 7,533.

Practically no change was made in the license vote, all of the cities remaining in the license column, with the addition of Franklin which voted yes this election. Newmarket voted no license for the first time for years.

The Republicans swept Portsmouth back into the Republican column in the election of Tuesday, giving the head of the ticket a handsome majority and with the exception of a congressional vote, carried the entire ticket from top to bottom, even pulling a Republican representative out of ward three, electing eight Republican representatives to one Democrat. They gave Senator Jacob H. Gallinger a good majority despite the great pressure brought to bear on the Navy Yard workmen to vote for Stevens.

The total vote was within twenty of the presidential election two years ago, when 2249 votes were cast for governor against 2229 at this election. The Progressive vote showed remarkable falling off, two years ago Churchill polled 559, while this year Allison polled but 35. The Socialists polled more votes by seven than the Progressives.

The Republican candidate for Governor Roland H. Spaulding, was given a very fine vote, going out of the city with a majority of 357, carrying every ward but three, and reducing the usual big Democratic majority in this ward to twenty. In all of the wards the number of straight tickets was very small, the principal scratching being in the congressional vote, for Congressman Reed carried the city by a majority of 401 over Cyrus A. Sulloway, an increase of fifty-two votes over two years ago. Ward two gave him over two hundred majority.

John G. Parsons was elected senator from the twenty-fourth district which was redistricted by the last legislature with the idea of making it a sure democratic district, but had the Republicans of ward two done their duty the district would be counted Democratic. Mr. Parsons defeated Sherman T. Newton, Republican, by thirty-one votes in the entire district which includes all of the wards of this city, and the town of Newcastle, Greenland, Newington, Stratham and Newmarket. Newton carried wards one, four and five, Greenland, Newington and Stratham, while Parsons carried wards two and three and Newcastle and Newmarket. Ward two, which gave the head of the Republican ticket nearly four hundred majority, gave Parsons forty-eight majority.

Councillor John Scammon was elected by a fine majority and carried all but one ward in this city.

The County ticket went through without a hitch and County Solicitor Ernest L. Guptill polled the largest vote in the city carrying every ward. His total vote was 1581 leading Sheriff Spinney the next highest by 62 votes. Frank H. Meloon, Democratic candidate for register of deeds, polled the largest vote on his side of the ticket with the exception of Congressman Reed.

The returns at a late hour this morning from all over the County gives the entire county ticket the election by a large majority. In the County Commissioners race Norman H. Boane had a fine vote but not as large as two years ago. Geo. W. McCarthy, Democrat, made a good showing with 698.

In ward one William T. Entwistle and George H. Sanderson Republicans, were elected by substantial majorities. The remainder of the ward officers were also elected.

In ward two Col. John Pender, George A. Wood and Ralph C. Gray were elected. Here Leon Ashe made a good run but he lost out by 119 majority.

In ward three the surprise of the election was sprung when Ralph E. Dowdell Republican, was not only elected a representative, but he lead the two Democrats by a fine majority. William H. Moran Democrat, was also elected over Stanton M. Trueman. This is a Democratic ward which seldom gives a Republican an election and it was due to personal effort on the part of the young man that he was elected.

In ward three William J. Cater, Republican, was elected over Fred A. Gray, Democrat.

In ward five Herman A. Clarke, Republican, was elected over Max Goodman, Democrat, but by the narrow margin of

THE GUILD EXHIBITION

Mr. Tarbell's New Family Group—The Sculptures and Miniatures—Mr. Pratt's Bronze Statuette.

The first exhibition of the Guild of Boston Artists was duly opened yesterday afternoon with a private view for the members and the associate members at the new galleries, 102 Newbury street, and today it was thrown open to the public, to continue for a fortnight. The hanging of the pictures somewhat modified since our article of last Saturday appeared, has been very well thought out and many of the canvases appear to much greater advantage than they did before they were finally placed on the walls. A prominent Boston artist said yesterday: "It is the best exhibition I have ever seen in Boston." Others are less enthusiastic, and feel that there are too many single-figure pieces among the paintings, so that the collection suffers somewhat for want of variety; but on the whole the verdict is favorable, and a second view of the exhibition in its final form confirms the first impression that the artists have no reason to be in the least ashamed of the showing made.

Edmund T. Tarbell's latest finished work, which had not arrived last week when we made our first comments on the show, is now the centre of interest on the west wall of the rear gallery. It is a family group, in the large east living-room of the Tarbell home at Newmarket, N. H., and is a work on which the painter was at work last summer. There are five figures. The tone of the painting is of a delightful scale of luminous and warm grays. As an expression of light and color it is the last word of a master painter. Nothing simpler could be conceived than the spirit in which this work is approached, and nothing simpler than the methods employed, which, however, are in the final analysis extremely subtle and knowing. Very high in key, as may be seen by comparing it with any other gray picture, the note is not in the slightest degree forced. It seems delightfully easy and spontaneous. The perfection of the atmospheric envelopment and the play of the light, the complete unity of the impression and the many exquisite passages of color are among the great excellences of this admirable example of painting.

As is invariably the case in Mr. Tarbell's pictures of interiors, the arrangement, design, composition, selection, are all marked by irreproachable good taste. There is not too much furniture and life-size figures in the room, but there is just enough, and what is there is exceedingly palpable and interesting. Moreover, there is no in-

Soucy of Harvard Has Been Kept Out of Games Because of Injury

SOUCY

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 4.—Soucy, best with Pennsylvania State. It is one of the ends on the Harvard football team, has been out of the game for some time because of injury. He was somewhat badly used in the constance too much insistence on necessity; each of these items is given just its relative and legitimate measure of importance and no more; no still life adjunct is so well painted as to stick out and call attention to itself, but if you examine these accessories one by one you will find that they are perfectly well perceived and painted and given precisely the degree of comparative consequences that they are entitled to. The only point that may possibly give rise to some misgivings is in reference to the wickerwork (about the dish of apples and grapes in the foreground, which seems to some observers a little too conspicuous, and yet it is entirely evident that some object was needed at that point to break into the monotony of the polished floor which reflects the flood of light from the window in the background.

LAST WEEK OF "TO-DAY."

Fifth Week of the Dramatic Sensation Begins at Majestic Theatre, Boston, Nov. 6th.

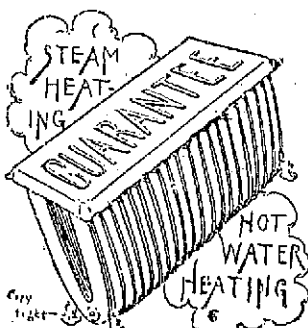

Manager Harry Von Tilzer will offer "To-Day," the startling drama of contemporary life in New York, by George Broadhurst and Abraham Schomer at the Majestic Theatre, Boston, for the fifth and last week, beginning next Monday, Nov. 9.

"To-Day," which enjoys the enviable distinction of being the drama longest on the boards in New York during the theatrical year 1913-14, is described as one of the most profound and striking of human dramas in that it discusses one of the prevalent problems of married life.

That the love of luxury and personal adornment forms the basis of one of the great problems American life is confronted with; that idleness among women has reached the pernicious stage; that the craze for vulgar display and outdoing one's neighbors has developed into a national disease; that the accumulation of great wealth has its disadvantages; that the cultivation of the intellect is more soul-satisfying than the mania for acquiring things; all are forcefully and effectively brought out in "To-Day."

Edmund Breese, a sterling actor, who is always sure of a warm welcome all through New England, heads the very strong cast which includes: Ethel Valentine, Marie Corbally, Margaret Robinson, Grace Thorne Coulter and Edward A. Reinold.

There will be a popular priced Wednesday matinee when the best seats are only one dollar.

FRENCH SOLDIERS FRESH FROM THE BATTLE

Beauvais, Nov. 3.—One cannot travel anywhere west of the great fighting line without coming across fugitives at every step, or signs of the battle.

"I was at Nanteuil," says one with his arm in a sling. "I was still fighting yesterday, and the Germans were falling back. We heard that the English had driven them across the Marne. Ah, they are fine, those English. We were on our side for forty-eight hours under artillery fire. We were chafing to get at the Germans, but our officers would not let us. Our time had not yet come. It was only when the enemy came within 200 yards that we were allowed to fire. We made a dash for them after a few volleys and drove them back, being under cover. But we could not go far. The enemy's batteries and machine guns were always ready to pour a murderous fire in our direction. In two days we gained only a mile and a half."

"Stand back," the ambulance men shout to us, and a Zouave, with his red Algerian cap and baggy trousers, is fired out of a train. He is very dangerously wounded, and seems hardly conscious of what is happening around him. The men lift him gently and carry him on their arms and shoulders to the motorcar. Another man, only slightly wounded, steps out after him. "The battalion he belongs to," says the man, "was the hardest hit of all. It fought with the bravery of lions at Compiègne. Out of 1,000 men only 200 were left." From another car I see a young volunteer step out with his left arm in a sling and clutching his heavy rifle. I cannot see his right arm. I ask to relieve him of the heavy metal, but he clings to it stubbornly.

His face brightens up as he tells us his story. He was up at the front the day of the declaration of war. "That very night we received orders. Three days later we were up at Liège, and since that day we were hardly ever out of the saddle. I was at Namur, at Charleroi, at Mons, at Saint-Quentin, and at Meaux. I think it was somewhere near Chateau-Thierry that I got out of touch with half a dozen of my comrades and the rest of the battalion.

"We were driving back a detachment of Uhlans, when I found myself facing half a dozen of them 300 yards away. They were aiming at me carefully, and their bullets grazed my ear.

"One Ulan particularly on whom I had my eye took aim for at least ten seconds. I ducked down, and the bullet hit my horse in the head without killing him. The next minute the poor beast got another bullet in the head, but still he carried me. What a fine animal it was. I aimed back twice, and at last I saw two of the Uhlans fall. The rest were turning when about a dozen infantry crept up from a bank. That was too much. I turned round to find my comrades, when a shot hurt alongside me, and one of the sharpshooters hit my breastplate. It glanced off and got embedded in my arm. A few minutes later I got back to my quarters, and was ordered away with the first batch of wounded."

The breastplate, to which he clung so eagerly, had a deep dent on the left side. Had it not been for that the sharpshot would have entered his heart. "That is why I am keeping it," he said smilingly. "It has saved my life."

GENERAL CARRANZA, DEPOSED

Another Proclaimed Provisional President.
El Paso, Tex., Nov. 3.—General Carranza has been deposed by the Aguas Calientes conference and General Eulalio Gutierrez has been proclaimed provisional president for twenty days. But Carranza has refused to yield to Gutierrez unless General Villa and Zapata first leave Mexico, and troops of all factions are moving.

From Aguascalientes comes the explanation that the conference in choosing General Gutierrez as provisional president for only twenty days desired to secure from General Zapata approval of the selection. The conference will then make its selection permanent. A despatch from Mexico city transmitted to the conference contained an inquiry from General Carranza for an explanation of the motives which impelled the conference to accept his resignation without first insisting upon the removal of Villa and Zapata from Mexico.

Both Villa and Carranza representatives claim the selection of General Gutierrez as a victory for their factions. As governor of the State of San Luis Potosi, appointed by Carranza, the Carranzistas claim that Gutierrez's selection is a decided victory for the forces of the first chief. The Villalistas say that Gutierrez has been exceptionally friendly to Villa and visited him in Juarez with General Panfilo Natera to get supplies for his forces.

The New President

Since the start of the present revolution the new provisional president has been head of the forces of the State of San Luis Potosi, and upon the fall of the Huerta Government he was appointed governor of the state. Since becoming governor he has taken a strong stand against the Catholic Church and is credited with having confiscated in the city of San Luis Potosi alone seventy houses belonging to prominent Catholic church officials. He is also a firm advocate of the distribution of land. At the outbreak of the Madero revolution Gutierrez was a coffee merchant in San Luis Potosi. He joined Madero, but gained little prominence. During the Huerta revolution, however, and later, during the present revolution, his activities as a bridge wrecker gained him wide fame and he is credited with having blown up more Federal trains than any other man in the republic. His activities were confined to the district around San Luis Potosi, Saltillo and Monterrey. In his own territory he is known as "the hero of forty unsung battles." He is heavy set, about six feet three inches tall, a ruddy cheeked man, about forty years old. He wears a moustache, cut German fashion. Few Americans have heard of him, but he sprung into sudden notoriety by the announcement that he had constructed a guillotine and would use it to execute Huerta prisoners.

Gutierrez is comparatively well educated. He did little fighting in the revolution against Diaz. Shortly after Carranza took the field he made Gutierrez a brigade commander and gave him command of the troops in San Luis Potosi. It was said of him that he broke the Federal power in Nueva Leon, Coahuila and San Luis Potosi by interrupting railway communication so often that Huerta forces could hardly move.

Villa Force Defeated.

Carranza forces, commanded by Generals Maclovio and Luis Herrera, defeated a strong Villa force near Parí, Mexico, yesterday, according to an official statement received at the Constitutional headquarters. General Ignacio Pesqueira was quoted to the effect that he had been advised that the Villa forces "lost a considerable number of men, rifles and a quantity of ammunition."

Carranza has ordered three brigades under Generals Lechuga and Gaviria to concentrate on Puebla to exterminate former Federal soldiers, who under Arguendo and Aguilar are in revolt.

Reports that General Carranza intended to set up a government in the south have been most emphatically denied at Mexico City by Minister of Foreign Affairs Pablos.

CROSS, FEVERISH
CHILD IS BILIOUS
OR CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated give "California Syrup of Figs."

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they have its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today moves a sick child tomorrow. ## IN THE MOVING PICTURE WORLD

"Wolfe, or the Conquest of Quebec" a five reel drama by the Kalem company, cost $70,000 to make and was filmed from authentic locations in Canada. The Kalem company is making a specialty of filming England's greatest wars.

Francis X. Bushman, according to a recent report, is a very lucky man. He has been left a fortune of $25,000 in an unusual way. The story is that the widow of one Marshall Bushman, of Death Valley, called at the Essanay studio a short time ago to see the actress's popular actor. She stated that her husband attended a moving picture show recently where one of the pictures featured Mr. Bushman. He immediately declared that the actor was his cousin whom he had not seen since childhood, and then bequeathed him part of his fortune that he had made in mining. Mr. Bushman pondered a while and could not seem to recollect of ever having any connections with such a cousin, but was willing to accept the money on a chance. Mrs. Marshall Bushman has gone to Norfolk, Va. where she will trace the relationship. Francis X. Bushman was born in Norfolk.

A cablegram from Paris informs us that a Belgian officer tells of seeing a moving picture camera man kneeling on the battle field, camera turning the crank of the camera, while shells and bullets were flying about him. He was in full view of the German army and probably they had detected him and used him as a target of their bullets. Amid the rain of death, he completed his film undisturbed. This news came as a surprise to the moving picture world, because cameras are not allowed at the front. It is not known what company the camera man was attached to. However, if these pictures ever reach this country they will undoubtedly prove the sensation of the entire country. Probably this man is the only one to secure actual battle scenes. There is a small amount of war films in this country now. They have come across in small quantities, about half a reel—500 feet. And at that, all that was shown were the ruins of some town that has been ruined by shells or showing parts of the armies mobilizing.

Jack London's "John Barleycorn," produced by the Bioscope Film company, is being shown throughout Michigan in a campaign being waged by the prohibitionists of the state. There was a pretty scene enacted at the studio of the Famous Players on Tuesday, last, when Miss Mary Pickford was presented with a silver loving cup by the Australian admirers, as a token of their affection. Miss Pickford was working on a big feature picture, when Daniel Frohman, president of the company, walked into the range of the camera and stopped proceedings. Little Mary, garbed in the robes of a queen, descended from her throne and inquired the cause of the interruption. Mildred Johnson, president of the Australian Film, Ltd., who came from Australia recently and had brought the cup with him, then presented to the popular actress the silver loving cup, explaining that as its inscription indicated, it was generally the token of affection in which Miss Pickford is held by her countrymen. With the cup was presented an album. The actress made a fitting reply. She was getting along nicely when suddenly her voice broke, she turned her head and covered her face. Unknown to Miss Pickford, the ceremony had been carefully rehearsed beforehand—a film was to be made of the action and sent to Sydney, Australia. Neither Miss Pickford nor Mr. Johnson knew that the ceremony was being recorded by the film—hence natural acting. The loving cup represented the contributions 13,451 Australian pennies. The signatures in the album were of the same contributors. The great volume was bound in the finest of leather. On the cover in raised letters was this inscription: "The Roll to Honor Our Little Mary Pickford—a Tribute from Australia." On the initial page were the signatures of the Lord Mayor and the Town Clerk of Sydney, Australia, attested by the municipal seal, said to be the first time it had been used on other than a city document.

DROP OF $20,000,000

Washington, Nov. 3.—Government receipts from ordinary sources were nearly $20,000,000 less during October than for October last year. Customs receipts were off about $14,000,000 and internal revenue nearly $5,000,000. The figures were in contrast with the showing for September when total receipts fell off only about $4,000,000 with customs being the same month in 1913 about $5,000,000 and internal revenue receipts increased about $8,000,000. The effect of the new revenue war tax will not noticeably swell the treasury's total for several weeks to come.

The net balance in the general fund at the close of the month was $91,639,912, about $54,000,000 less than on June 30, and the total cash assets were put at $1,866,321,137, compared with $2,005,005,891 on June 30.

POSTPONE WEDDING TO AID SICK AND WOUNDED

Prospective Bride of J. T. Coolidge, Jr., to Take Up Red Cross Work in France.

The wedding of John Templeton Coolidge, Jr., of Boston and this city, a well known clubman, and Miss Elsie Burr, daughter of L. Tucker Burr, a Boston banker has been postponed owing to the European war. The prospective bride is said to have sailed from Boston on Tuesday for France where she will act in the cause of humanity, as a Red Cross nurse. The wedding was to have taken place last month and the fact that it has been delayed started much speculation among the gossips, who usually jump at conclusions in such matters. A Boston paper, today states that Mr. Coolidge, Jr., would have nothing to say in regard to the matter, and that Miss Burr's mother declined to discuss her daughter's marriage.

John Templeton Coolidge Jr., when interviewed by a reporter at his home at Little Harbor on Tuesday was completely surprised when informed of the story as it came from Boston that the engagement was thought to be.

have been at an end. "I know that this is news in the families, and I cannot understand how it originated unless it comes from the report that Miss Burr had some time ago agreed to delay the wedding that she might give her services to the sick and wounded, and before sailing she said: "I feel that I am needed in Europe," she said wistfully yesterday, as she stood on the Arable's deck. "There cannot be too many nurses to care for the thousands of men who have been killed and who will be wounded in this terrible war. I want to do what I can. With my experience I would probably be of more value than other girls who have never had any training."

Miss Burr, whose formal presentation to society took place about two seasons ago is the sister of Miss Barbara Burr, and one of her brothers is J. Tucker Burr Jr., who last October married Miss Evelyn Thayer of Lancaster. Charleston Burr of the Harvard class of '13 is the younger brother.

REPUBLICANS MAKE GAINS EVERYWHERE

Whitman Elected Governor of New York—Senator Penrose Is Victorious.

New York, Nov. 3.—Sweeping Republican gains throughout the country, which reached a climax in this state by the overwhelming victory of Charles S. Whitman for governor and James W. Wadsworth to succeed Elihu Root in the United States senate, were indicated tonight in early returns of the general elections.

Heavy falling off of the Progressive vote in many states, the return to congress of former Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, decisive Republican gains in New York and Illinois in the house membership and the overwhelming defeat of Rep. A. Mitchell Palmer by Senator Boies Penrose in Pennsylvania, were features of the early returns. Democratic leaders, however, were pleased by a triumph in Massachusetts, where former Rep. Samuel W. McCall was defeated for the governorship by Governor Walsh.

Early returns indicated that the Democrats would retain control of congress with apparently no change in the senate but by a decidedly reduced majority in the house. At a late hour results in Illinois, Indiana, California and Colorado as to the senatorship were in doubt. In Illinois, Roger C. Sullivan, who had the endorsement of most administration leaders, Secretary of State Bryan excepted, was leading in Chicago and Cook county by a large plurality over Senator L. Y. Sherman (R), and Raymond Robbins (Prog), but Senator Sherman was running ahead in the country districts and was claiming the election. Senator Shively (D) found in the Indiana early returns a strong opponent in Hugh Miller, the Republican candidate, with former Senator Beveridge, the progressive candidate, polling a smaller vote than had generally been expected. In Colorado, Senator Charles S. Thomas (D) was being hard pressed by Hubert Work, the Republican candidate.

Penrose Wins With Ease.

The triumph of Senator Penrose in Pennsylvania over A. Mitchell Palmer, D, who was one of the original supporters of Woodrow Wilson, and Clifford Pinchot, prog., was overwhelming. The senatorial fight in Kansas also was uncertain, according to early returns. Charles Curtis, former Republican senator; Congressman George A. Neeley, D, and Rep. Victor Murdock, prog., engaged in a spirited contest for the seat of Joseph L. Bristow.

Senators re-elected as the result of hard battles were: Frank B. Brandegee, R, of Connecticut, who was opposed by Governor Simon E. Baldwin; Albert Cummings, R, of Iowa, who defeated Rep. Maurice Connolly; John Walter Smith, D, of Maryland; William J. Stone, D, of Missouri; Jacob H. Gallinger, R, of New Hampshire, who was opposed by Rep. R. B. Stevens.

Democratic senators in the south were re-elected without difficulty, new senators from southern states chosen being Representative Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama and Representative Thomas W. Hardwick of Georgia.

Former Gov. J. W. C. Beckman (D) of Kentucky, was chosen for the long term.

The triumph of former Speaker Joseph G. Cannon over Frank L. O'Hair for representative in the 18th Illinois district, seemed certain on the early returns. Other Illinois Republicans who were turned out of the House in the last Democratic landslide, who will be returned to Congress were William B. McKinley, Charles E. Fuller and John A. Sterling. Republicans also made gains in New York, Oscar W. Swift defeating Representative James H. O'Brien in the 9th district; Rollin B. Sanford, defeating Representative Peter G. Tenn Eyck; Walter W. MacGee succeeding to the seat of Representative John R. Chaney and R. L. Haskell (R) was elected in the 10th district, formerly represented by Merriam Metz (D).

The defeat of Representative Charles A. Kitchley (D) of Indiana, by Merrill Moores, also marked the general trend of Republican gains throughout the country.

Sereno E. Payne (R) of New York, one of the oldest members of the House in point of service, was re-elected without difficulty.

Election of state officers resulted in a few turn-overs. In New York, Governor Glynn, the Democratic candidate for re-election, was defeated decisively by District Attorney Whitman, R. Frederick Davenport, prog., nominee, in support of whose candidacy ex-President Roosevelt devoted most of the campaign, was left far in the rear, his vote being exceeded by that of William Sulzer, who was deposed as governor last year.

In Tennessee, also a change of party control was indicated. Early returns pointed to the defeat of Gov. Ben W. Hooper, the Republican incumbent, by Thomas C. Rye, D. In Pennsylvania, where occurred one of the most spirited campaigns, Martin G. Brumbaugh, R, early took a long lead over Vance G. McCormick, Democratic candidate for governor, who was endorsed by the Progressives.

In Ohio, the race for governor be-

Cream of Tartar

Many New England people use cream of tartar for quick baking. They value its superior qualities and will not knowingly accept substitutes made of alum or lime phosphates, such as are sometimes offered.

But even the most careful cannot always know. The high price of cream of tartar has led to efforts to substitute alum and phosphate of lime compounds which are vastly inferior and not as healthful to use.

The easiest way in which the housekeeper can be sure of quality and economy is by using Royal Baking Powder, which is made from pure cream of tartar.

Royal Baking Powder gives perfect results, is less trouble to use, and has not been advanced in price.

Anyone who has once become accustomed to using Royal Baking Powder never reverts to home-made mixtures or any other product for raising biscuit, griddle-cakes, doughnuts, or cake.

A GRAND REPUBLICAN VICTORY

votes. This is the closest this ward has gone for a long time.

The entire Board of Registrars of Voters placed in office by the last legislature, were with one exception, defeated and the Republicans will now have all but one member in this body.

While there was a big vote cast and a great deal of work put in by workers on both sides, there was no disturbance whatever and everything went along very smoothly. Not a challenge was made at any of the wards. The only protest made was against the action of the Board of Registrars, who, during the morning in issuing certificates, held a star chamber session and at twelve o'clock shut off a number of people who sought to have their names placed on the list. Many prominent people found that their names had been stricken off the list since the Primaries and in some cases they had little satisfaction when they applied to the Board. The Republicans charge that the Board not only held a star chamber session but that the Democratic leaders had a key to a side door and entered with their applicants at will.

FAITH

For if there be a Faith, from of old, it is this, as we often repeat, that no lie can live forever. The very Truth has to change its vesture, from time to time; and be born again. But all Lies have sentence of death written down against them, in Heaven's Chancery itself; and, slowly or fast, advance incessantly towards their hour.

HOPE

"Man is based on Hope; he has properly no other possession but Hope; this habitation of his is named the Place of Hope." Man lives by Hope. Pandora, when her box of gods' gifts flew all out, and became gods' curses, still retained Hope. How shall an irrational mortal, when his high place is never so evidently pulled down, and he, being irrational, is left resourceless, part with the belief that it will be rebuilt? It would make all so straight again, it seems so unspeakably desirable; so reasonable—would you but look at it right. For, must not the thing which was continue to be; or else the solid World dissolve?

LOVE

"But the greatest of these is Love." Sweetest days, when (astonishing to say) mortals have actually met together in communion and fellowship; and man, were it only once through long despicable centuries, is for moments verily the brother of man.—Carlyle's French Revolution.

WILL CONTEST THE SENATORIAL ELECTION

Sherman T. Newton Will Base His Claim on the Unfair Tactics Pursued by the Partisan Board of Registrars.

Sherman T. Newton, republican candidate for senator in the 24th district, who was defeated by a few votes, according to the returns, by John G. Parsons, democrat, will contest the seat. Mr. Newton will base his claim on the unfair tactics pursued by the board of registrars at their session on Tuesday morning. It is alleged that persons who had lived in this city for many years and were legally entitled to vote were deprived of that privilege because they were of the Republican faith.

On the other hand it is stated that Dr. S. T. Ladd, the new Moses of the Democratic party in this city, and the democratic candidate for senator, had a key to the side entrance to the room where the state chamber session was in progress and those of the Democratic faith were admitted to the board to present their claims and were granted certificates while other citizens were kept in waiting in the outer room. By these unfair methods it is claimed that fully fifty citizens were deprived of their right of suffrage.

It is cited that two men who had resided in this city for upwards of six years were refused certificates by the board, presumably for the reason that when asked by the clerk, "Who sent you here?" he was fittingly told that it was none of his business. If all reports concerning the methods of the board of registrars on Tuesday are true, it would seem as though some of the persons deprived of their right of franchise should have some means of redress.

CONTESTING THE FATHER'S WILL

Emery Children Claim Undue Influence on Part of Widow.

Samuel W. Emery appears in the fourth session of the superior court in Boston today on behalf of himself and his two sisters, where he will contest the will, made by his late father, Judge Samuel W. Emery of this city and Boston. The children claim undue influence on the part of the widow and second wife of the late Judge. The children have previously petitioned the Massachusetts courts to transfer the will to the probate court of Rockingham county, N. H., for probate, claiming that their father was a resident of this city. Chief Justice Ruggs deplored the transfer on the evidence of Mrs. Emery and others on the ground that Judge Emery was at the time of his death, domiciled in Boston. Attorney Richardson of Boston is associated with Mr. Emery in the case.

POLICE CHIEF IS STRICKEN

Argument Over Payroll Is Said to Have Led to Sudden Illness.

James Marshall of the committee on claims of the Dover city council refused to sign the payroll of the police department, on account of it containing the name of Chief of Police Edward S. Clark, whose pay was attached some days ago by Attorney Everett J. Galloway on account of the chief not having turned over some money in his possession which belonged to Mr. Galloway's client.

Late in the afternoon, while discussing the matter with several patrolmen, the chief was stricken with an ill turn, and became unconscious.

He was taken to his home and was given medical treatment by two physicians. This morning he is considerably improved and probably will be able to return to his duties in a day or two.

PIANO TALKS
WHAT IS AN OPTIMIST?

"A man who, falling from a fourth-story window, is heard to murmur as he passes the first floor, 'All right so far.'" This reminds us of the deluded individuals who purchase cheap pianos. They think because the instrument looks bright and shiny and seems to "work" pretty well for the first six months or so that it is "all right." They don't realize that the life of a good piano is measured by years, almost a life time, in fact.

Any Piano Makeshift
Will hold together and "go" for a year or two, but how about it after 10, 15 or 25 years of service? When you buy a piano buy the reliable, standard make that has something more than a cheap salesman's recommendation behind it. That kind is sold at
